	In addition to the above specific course requirements, students are also required to complete a two-credit seminar on any seminar topic among a range of topics on-offer in a given semester.	2
	In addition to the above course requirements, students are required to complete a total of six credits in experiential courses from a designated list of such courses. However, the one credit for LAW 431 - Legal Writing 3 - and the three credits from LAW 432 - Legal Writing 4 - are automatically applied toward the six total credits of experiential courses. Thus, the experiential course requirement for purposes of credit for this comment is two credits. ²	2
	To earn the 43 remaining credits required to earn the 87 total credits necessary for the JD degree, students select among a wide array of elective courses in various areas of substantive law and practical legal skills. The elective courses in the curriculum are designed to allow students to gain a deeper understanding of particular substantive areas of law relevant to their career plans and refine their legal skills relevant to career objectives.	43

² The current and approved list of courses that satisfy the experiential course requirement consists of traditional courses, clinical courses, and for-credit externship/field placements. The list of approved experiential courses contains over 40 courses, is updated periodically, and is posted to the law school's website at: https://kentlaw.iit.edu/sites/default/files/2023-11/Approved_Experiential_Course_List_May_2023_0.pdf
